⚠ Examination required

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE

⚠ Keep instructions for future reference.
The pamphlet explains how to use some common materials for climbing equipment shown in the illustrations. Other possible materials exist. Correct use and the use of redundant systems will reduce some of the risks associated with climbing. If you lack experience, use this equipment under proper supervision. Always consider how a rescue might be carried out in case of emergency. Consult with a professional if you are uncertain about how to use this product. UHMWPE (Dyne) has a lower coefficient of friction and melting point than traditional textiles.

⚠ LONG HAUL HARNESS:

The Type C sit harness is intended to provide protection against falls while climbing or mountaineering. It is intended for a correctly sized body in a sitting position.

⚠ HEAVY METAL CHEST HARNESS: This Type D chest harness is intended to provide protection against falls while climbing or mountaineering and must only be used with a harness with a Type C sit harness. Use of a Type D chest harness without a Type C sit harness may result in injury or death.

SIZING PRECAUTIONS

1. It is essential that you wear the correct harness size and that it fits you well. Before using this harness, hang it in front of a safe place to ensure you've chosen the correct size and suitable harness.

2. The size designation and circumference range (in centimeters and in inches) of Black Diamond harnesses are located on the RN label on the harness's waist belt.

3. If you are uncertain whether your harness fits you correctly, consult with a qualified professional.

4. Check the buckles and adjustment regularly during use.
